DECEIT IN CONNECTICUT POLITICS

Prof. Fisher of Wesleyan University Says Legislators Repudiate Party Pledges, and Cites Specific Instances at Last Session of Legislature—Tells Bridgeport Business Men That Awakening Has Begun in This State.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 14.—"Politics is a part, a preliminary part of government or statecraft," said Prof. William C. Fisher of Wesleyan University, addressing the Bridgeport Business Men's association tonight at their "get together" dinner in this city.

"The one fact in the politics of Connecticut which seems to me to be of most serious significance is that our politicians, most of them, as well as their creatures in office, do not understand that age in which they are living. Notwithstanding signs which might be read while running, they appear with extremely few and partial exceptions, to be confiding in the old rules and methods, the old ploys, the old deceptions, the old treacheries, which have served their selfish ends a century and more, can be used just as effectively for as long a time to come.

"For generations politicians have been able to deceive voters with pre-election declarations about the righteousness of the people's cause and their own burning zeal to serve the same dear people. And it will take more than what the Connecticut politician has yet heard, even in the returns of socialist gains, to teach him that the awakening has already begun in this state.

"Breaking of Party Pledges. "As to one specific form of political deceit, I shall speak with reference to my own party. I mean the repudiation of platform pledges, always, be it remembered, after the pledges have served their turn in deceiving a goodly number of trusting voters. The democratic platform promised ratification of the income tax amendment to the federal constitution, five out of eleven democratic senators voted for it, and one of the four voting openly against it cites as his authority in so doing the highest name that a member of his party could name.

Senate Democrats Untrue to Platform.

"The democratic platform promised not merely the abolition of the $5,000 limit of damages for fatal injuries, but the abolition of any limit whatever. In a temporary paper issued as an appeal to voters after special attention was called to the fact that democracy was opposed to $5,000 or any other arbitrary sum" as limit. In the senate six democratic senators voted to fix the limit at $10,000, and again the same high authority was cited as saying that such action would satisfy the pledge of the democratic party.

Violation of Promises Dishonest.

"Other instances of the same sort of action might be cited, from both parties. Now what should be said among honest men? Here are definite measures, which in the nature of the case can be advanced only in the general assembly. A party platform makes unqualified pledges. Having expressed no dissent before election, senators and other officers, higher and lower, reject the control of the platform pledge. To violate a promise is always dishonest. To do so in some relations exposed to public punishment as a criminal. Is it any more credible to get honors under false pretences than to get goods in the same way?

New Men Will Be Leaders.

Professor Fisher concluded: "But the age has changed. It has a more human and democratic spirit and a vastly greater popular intelligence and power. These are sure to effect transformations in industry and in government. The new movements are not yet as strong in Connecticut as in some other regions, but they are growing. Unless the present political man, as sent to the new and just demands of the people, they are very near the end of their control. New men will be the leaders in a new politics of higher quality and nobler purpose."

ETTOR AN ADVOCATE OF LAW AND ORDER.

Tenor of Testimony in Defence of Lawrence Strike Leader.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 14.—The prosecution rested and the defence began the introduction of testimony today in the hearing in the district court of Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, charged with being accessories before the fact to the murder of Anna Lopinski during a riot of textile strikers and their sympathizers in this city on January 29. It is expected that the defense will occupy the whole of tomorrow, and possibly longer.

The defense called as its first witness Gilbert V. Smith, secretary of the local branch of the Industrial Workers of the World, the organization which conducted the strike. A. H. Admon, recording secretary of the finance committee of the strike committee, Edward R. Ricker, chairman of the English speaking strikers' relief committee, and William Yates of New Bedford, who has assumed charge of the strike since Ettor's arrest. All testified that at the meetings of the strike committee and public meetings Ettor never had counselled violence. Mr. Smith was questioned regarding the principles of the Industrial Workers of the World.

He said that its leading principle was the abolition of the wage system and the betterment of the condition of the working people in organization and education. Its members believed, he said, that property should be owned by society. Asked how the organization proposed to abolish the wage system, Mr. Smith said that the method would be to organize the working class and take active part in politics; they proposed to bring about the conditions they desired through legislation. Ettor, said the witness, always advocated law and order in his speeches and conversations.

BIG GAINS IN MILLS.

Manufacturers Claim Number of Workers Steadily Increases.

Boston, Feb. 14.—The textile manufacturers of Lawrence, who have their head offices in this city, issued a statement tonight. The statement in part follows:

"Our employees are returning to work in steadily increasing numbers. This is particularly true of the skilled workers long resident in this country, but the various departments are becoming better balanced all the time. The employees who have come back are working with manifest willingness and fidelity. There will undoubtedly be more gains throughout the week, as people comprehend that law and order is again supreme and that there can be no further violence."

Darrow's Trial Next Week.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 14.—Clarence S. Darrow's trial on the indictment charging jury bribery, scheduled for today, was continued until Feb. 22. LeCompte Davis, associated with Darrow in the defense of the McNamara brothers, was a grand jury witness.

Another Taft Endorsement.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 14.—President Taft, and his administration were endorsed by the republican state central committee which met here this afternoon.

Almost Lost His Life.

S. A. Stid of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery, which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. First La Grippe, Then Bronchitis.

That was the case with Mrs. W. S. Bagley, McCroary, Ky. "My wife was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe, which ran into bronchitis. She coughed as the doctors said she had consumption and could not sleep at night. The first bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gave her so much relief that she continued using it until she was permanently cured." The Lee & Osmond Co.

SAYS LABOR UNIONS ARE UN-AMERICAN

Steel Trust Director Asserts That They Are an Imported Institution.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Percival Roberts, a director of the United States Steel corporation, told the Stanley steel investigating committee today that his company would like to see labor unions under the same governmental control as corporations. Trade unions in this country he denounced as "un-American."

"I see no reason," said Mr. Roberts, "why men should not combine to dispose of their labor just as men combine to use capital, provided that both are under governmental control and that full liability is imposed on labor organizations for all their undertakings and that neither side has any monopolistic tendencies. The difficulty with labor organizations is that they are not governmental in character. They demand the closed shop, which is a monopoly and there is no law in this country to prevent the closed shop. Neither is there any law providing liability upon labor unions regarding contracts."

Armour Manager Makes Damaging Admission at Trial of Packers.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—E. A. Russell, manager of the beef sales department of Armour & company, admitted while testifying in the packers' trial today that he at times ordered flat meat and reduction in prices of dressed meat regardless of the quality or grade of the product.

At first when questioned by government counsel Russell denied ever having ordered any flat changes in price, but a moment later he changed his answer and admitted the practice when the following telegram was read to the jury:

"Chicago, July 15, 1910. Baulewson, New York: Re Elizabeth 8859. I wired you early this week that request for branch houses will be changed and we would add 25 instead of 50 cents. H. A. Russell."

OXYGEN PUMP MAY SAVE MANY LIVES.

Effective in Drowning, Gas Poisoning and Electrocution Accidents.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Thousands of lives will be saved in the future, in the opinion of bureau of mines officials, by means of an oxygen pumping apparatus with which the bureau's workers during the past year restored to life more than thirty persons who had ceased breathing. By means of the lung filling an emptying machine used by the bureau, oxygen is forced in the poisonous gases drawn out and normal breathing started. The machine acts automatically, any effort on the part of the individual hindering rather than helping it.

In drowning cases, gas poisoning and electrocution accidents there will be many revivals. It is believed, by the prompt use of the oxygen device. Hundreds of inquiries have reached the bureau of mines from hospitals, physicians and municipal authorities asking about the value of the machine. An official of the bureau today said that in his opinion the time was near when every police patrol would be equipped with one of the machines.

CARDINAL FARLEY PERFORMS CEREMONY.

Wedding of Miss Marion Regan to a British Vice Consul.

New York, Feb. 14.—Cardinal Farley performed his first marriage ceremony today since his recent elevation. The wedding at which he officiated was that of Miss Marion Edith Regan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Regan, of the Hotel Knickerbocker, and William Gunther Gardner, one of the British vice consuls in New York, and it took place in St. Patrick's cathedral. The cardinal read the marriage service and then retired to his throne, where, at the conclusion of the mass he gave the couple his blessing.

UNDERWOOD BILL WILL HIT CONNECTICUT HARD

Twenty-two Concerns in This State Are Making Machine Tools.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, Feb. 14.—The machine tool men began their fight against that provision of the Underwood bill which places their product on the free list, yesterday, before the senate finance committee.

The representatives of the different concerns held a meeting prior to going before the committee, and selected Fred Guyer of Cincinnati to make the opening statement for their side.

Representative Longworth of Ohio, in introducing Mr. Guyer, said that those who said that the machine tool industry was amply protected by patents were mistaken and in his opinion if the bill became a law in its present form the machine tool builders would not only lose what little export trade they had but would have to battle for the trade of the home market.

In opening his case, Mr. Guyer told of the important part taken in the industries of the country by machine tools. "Take them away and you could not open a railroad, plow a field, or build a battleship," he said. He said there were 225 concerns in this country building machine tools. Twenty-two of them are in Connecticut. The output last year was valued at $22,900,000. Of this $4,500,000 was exported. The machine tools exported, he explained, were of a new and improved type, such as are not built in Europe. The imports are copies of the machines which were exported a year or so ago, made in Germany. Mr. Guyer admitted that they received a little less for the machines exported for the reason that the price quoted included delivery at New York, and the packing was not so expensive.

He gave the average of wages paid in the machine tool industry in Europe as follows: Machine operatives, 16-18 per hour; vice hands, 15-16 per hour; and common labor 10-11-12. The machine tool makers of this country pay for the same class of labor as follows: Machine operatives, 27-30 per hour; vice hands, 25-27 per hour; and for common labor, 13-15 per hour.

In answer to questions by members of the committee he said the proportion of the cost of labor in the finished product was as follows: Actual labor, 25-30 per cent; overhead cost, 48-50 per cent; and material 25-30 per cent. He did not think would give them raw material any lower than now.

Representatives of Taylor & Fenn, and Henry & W. White of Hartford, the Hendey Machine company of Torrington, and the Bullard Machine company of Bridgeport, were present at the hearing, which will continue from day to day until all are heard.

E. M. Holden of Hartford will have a hearing on Thursday on ball bearings which are reduced from 40 to 25 per cent in this bill. He said that the fact that over 50 per cent of the ball bearings used in this country now were imported proved that the present duty was not too high.
